SEPTEMBER - OCTOBER 2007

החודש תשרי תשס"ח

FROM OUR RABBI...

THE HIGH HOLY DAYS

The High Holy Days, or better The Days of Awe—Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur—constitute the most solemn moments of the Jewish Calendar. In reality, as the Tosofot commentary on the Talmud, Nedarim, points out, they constitute a single time frame commemorating the new year. On these days we acclaim G-d as the omnipotent king of the universe and at the same time the loving father who awaits the repentance and return of his wayward children. The laws and customs of these holy days serve to awaken within us the desire to examine our ways, confess our faults, and resolve to be reborn as complete Jews.

May the Almighty grant that we succeed in this task or reexamination. I would like to personally express my wishes to everyone for a year of peace, good health and personal fulfillment.

ROSH HASHANA

In the Torah, Rosh Hashana is known as the day of the sounding of the Shofar - Yom Zichron Teruah. What is clear, however, is that the Yom Tov has always celebrated the new year season. For Jewish tradition this means celebrating Creation and acclaiming God as king and judge.

ERUV TAVSHILIN

Since Rosh Hashana, Succot & Sh'mini Atseret occur on a Thursday & Friday, we are not permitted to cook on Friday for Shabbat without making a symbolic preparation for Shabbat in advance of Yom Tov. We do this by placing a piece of cooked food - usually a boiled egg on a plate together with a some bread or Matsah, recite the appropriate blessing and formula, and store this food until Shabbat when it may be eaten. The blessing and formula can be found in the Machzor or in any comprehensive Siddur.

SHABBAT SHUVA

The intermediate Shabbat of Aseret Yemai T'shuva is marked by the recitation of a special Haftarah (Hosea 14) which calls on Israel to repent.

ASERET Y'MAI T'SHUVAH

The days of intermediate between Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur are marked by recitation of Selichot and punctilious observance of the details of Jewish Law. It is appropriate to observe the customs even beyond the letter of the law that one does not normally observe during the year to intensify one's sense of closeness to G-d. We must also ask forgiveness of anyone we may have offended during the past year. One should be forgiving of offensive actions done by others against oneself. We should especially be punctilious about the Mitzvah of Ts'dakah (charity) at this time, for as King Solomon tells us,

"Ts'dakah redeems from death."

YOM KIPPUR

The day of Atonement is marked by strict fasting from sunset on Yom Kippur eve to the appearance of the stars on the following night. If by chance a person is under medical instruction not to fast, the Rabbi should be consulted and will advise as to appropriate procedures.

Please note: Women who plan to arrive for Kol Nidrei by car can still light candles at home in advance by making a mental note not to accept Yom Kippur upon themselves until they arrive at the Synagogue.

DRESS AND DEMEANOR

One must not wear leather shoes on Yom Kippur and; thus, it is a mark of an Orthodox synagogue that the worshippers wear slippers or sneakers. It is also a beautiful custom to wear a kittel throughout the day as a symbol of our quest for purification.

SUCCOT

The festival of Succot recalls the providential guidance of G-d during the wanderings of Israel in the wilderness after the Exodus from Egypt. The festival, lasting seven days, is celebrated by the following Mitzvot:

- Succah-Dwelling in a temporary home.
- Arbah Minim — The praise of G-d with four species: the lulav (palm branch, etrog (citron), hadassim (myrtles), aravot (willows).

The walls of the Succah may be built of any material, but the roof must be made of material that grows naturally from the earth and is not edible. This schach must not be fashioned into any kind of an implement, nor can it be nailed down. The schach symbolizes the transient character of material benefit and the beneficence of G-d's bounty. Each person should possess his own Arba Minim. On the Sabbath we do not take up the lulav and etrog.

CHIBBUT ARAVOT

On the seventh day of Succot, Hoshana Raba, we make seven circuits around the synagogue with the Arba Minim and conclude by beating willows as a symbolic quest for atonement. This mitzvah was instituted by the prophets of Israel.

SH'MINI ATZERET -

SIMCHAT TORAH

Sh'mini Atzeret, a festival unto itself, brings Succot to a joyous consummation, achieved only when we can celebrate in the permanent dwelling of our homes; however, outside Israel we still eat our meals on the first day of Sh'mini Atzeret in the Succah, since this day constitutes a sefeka d'yoma — possibly Hoshana Rabba or Sh'mini Atzeret.

The second day, Simchat Torah, marks the conclusion of the annual cycle of the reading of the Torah and the beginning of the new cycle.

Parents - With the approach of the High Holy Days, we would again like to remind you that small children are sometimes restless at the services. Please make sure that your child does not disturb the service, and that he/she is not left unattended for long periods in other parts of the building.

Babysitting Service

We have a sitter available for children between the age of 3 and 9 on Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur. On Rosh Hashana the hours will be 10:00 am to 2:00 pm and on Yom Kippur the service will operate on Kol Nidrei night to the conclusion of the service and during the day from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm and 7:00 pm to the conclusion of the services.

GRS SHABBAT GROUPS...

Our new Youth Director, Rabbi Nevo Zuckerman, has been fine tuning our wonderful Shabbat groups and we ask that you have your children attend groups instead of attending the hallways. This is a great opportunity for them to grow together in a Shul environment tailored to their ages, and we hope they will take full advantage of it.

BANQUET UPDATE

Our Annual Banquet will be held this year on Monday, October 15th. We are very proud to be honoring Gerry & Miriam Engelhart, who mean so much to our synagogue and community. This year we are also pleased to be giving an Outstanding Service Award to Marcia Anouchi for her endless efforts on behalf the Shul. We will also have a special memorial section in our Ad Journal this year honoring our Gabbai of many years, Max Moskowitz.

Thank You

We would like to thank our volunteers from the Gross Schechter Day School Totally Kosher Rib Burn Off. It was a wonderful event for the school and we are happy to have been involved. Our volunteers this year included: Chaim Horwitz, Tilly Polster, Howard Goldberg, Arni Kaufman, Dr. Jack Jaffe, Hillel Davis, (Our cook) Paul Fierman, Marc Flaks, Hannah Rubin, and Adina & David Seltzer, and Renee Edelman for providing our tent.

If you missed out and want to be involved next year, contact David in the Synagogue office.

We would also like to give a special thank you to Renee Edelman for all of her help with our High Holiday ticket sales this year.
